It's fair to say that I'm on a bit of a mission to build the capability of people and organisations through the work that I do – and I have a particular focus on inspiring and supporting good governance and leadership practices within not-for-profits.

To help your NFP with this, join me online on Wednesday 4 September at 11 am (AEST/Melbourne time) for my next FREE webinar, where I'll be revisiting my top 10 things you need to know about not-for-profit Governance.

Back by popular demand, this perennial favourite always pulls a crowd, demonstrating that there are lots of other people keen to improve the governance practices of their NFPs too.

So if this is for you, come along and hear my best tips on how to work on improving your organisation's governance too!

Whether you are new to not-for-profit governance, or an old hand, you are sure to come away from this webinar with great tips, ideas, and reminders of things, that you can take away and implement in your organisation to enhance the governance practices of YOUR not-for-profit.
